

ADJECTIVES

Word

Definition

aberrant	adj. diverging from the standard type aesthetic	adj. concerned with the nature of beauty and art ambiguous	adj. unclear adj. open to multiple interpretations ambivalent	adj. having mixed or contradictory feelings about someone or something amenable	adj. easily convinced or persuaded antithetical	adj. contrary to the very nature of arbitrary	adj. seemingly chosen or designated without reason or purpose arcane	adj. secret or known only to a select group archaic	adj. old-fashioned adj. no longer in the common usage arduous	adj. difficult, taxing, requiring considerable effort articulate	adj. exhibiting considerable communication skills, well-spoken artless	adj. without artifice adj. natural, untrained ascetic	adj. austere or self-denying audacious	adj. very bold or presumptuous austere	adj. severe, unadorned banal	adj. boring, cliché benign	adj. gentle, harmless biased	adj. prejudiced, displaying partiality bombastic	adj. overblown, theatrical brazen	adj. bold or open to the point of shocking adj. shameless
bucolic	adj. pastoral, rustic, countrified candid	adj. honest, open capricious	adj. mercurial, unpredictable, whimsical caustic	adj. corrosive adj. bitterly sarcastic chronological	adj. ordered by time cogent	adj. clearly laid out and persuasive commensurate	adj. in accordance with, proportional compelling	adj. captivating adj. very persuasive comprehensive	adj. complete and thorough consequential	adj. as a result of adj. significant or memorable contentious	adj. controversial adj. involving conflict contrite	adj. remorseful convoluted	adj. roundabout, not straightforward copious	adj. plentiful or abundant cosmopolitan	adj. of or relating to a city or urban area adj. sophisticated craven	adj. cowardly to the point of being shameful credulous	adj. gullible, naïve deftness	adj. skill, acumen adj. manual dexterity derivative	adj. imitates another work in a way that is unoriginal or uninspiring desultory	adj. halfhearted adj. inconsistent or random didactic	adj. educational or with an instructive purpose; often includes an element of moralizing diffident	adj. shy, timid, or reserved due to a lack of confidence disinterested	adj. objective, unbiased adj. not invested in the outcome disparate	adj. dissimilar to such a degree that comparison is not possible dispassionate	adj. impartial or cool ebullient	adj. cheerful, enthusiastic, excited eccentric	adj. quirky or unusual eclectic	adj. composed of a variety of styles, themes, motifs, etc. eloquence	adj. persuasive and articulate speech eminent	adj. well-known, respected, distinguished empirical	adj. based on evidence ephemeral	adj. short-lived or transient equable	adj. even-tempered adj. not given to much change or variation erroneous	adj. incorrect erudite	adj. learned esoteric	adj. obscure, arcane estimable	adj. deserving respect, esteem, and admiration exacting	adj. challenging, demanding, grueling exigent	adj. urgent or pressing extraneous	adj. irrelevant or superfluous facetious	adj. glib or flippant fallacious	adj. relying on a fallacy and thus incorrect/misinformed fastidious	adj. meticulous adj. invested in cleanliness fortuitous	adj. fortunate and lucky frugal	adj. economical, thrifty garrulous	adj. talkative gauche	adj. socially inept, inappropriate, or awkward germane	adj. relevant to the matter at hand glib	adj. talking volubly, but carelessly or insincerely gregarious	adj. sociable, genial hackneyed	adj. cliché, trite, banal hierarchical	adj. arranged in rank order or hierarchy homogenous	adj. uniform, identical ideological	adj. relating to a particular belief system or theory imminent	adj. about to happen immutable	adj. unchangeable imperturbable	adj. remaining calm under any circumstance implacable	adj. unforgiving adj. relentless

implicit	adj. implied or insinuated without being directly stated impudent	adj. disrespectful inadvertent	adj. by accident or unintentional inchoate	adj. rudimentary, in the beginning stages inconclusive	adj. indeterminate or unresolved indebted	adj. owing money adj. owing gratitude to someone or something indefatigable	adj. cannot be made tired indolent	adj. lazy
	adj. idle
ingenuous	adj. naïve or innocent inimical	adj. harmful or hostile innocuous	adj. harmless inscrutable	adj. enigmatic, incomprehensible insipid	adj. bland, uninspired, inane insular	adj. tight-knit and isolated; uninterested in matters outside one's immediate sphere intensive	adj. concentrated and in-depth intimate	adj. close (as in a relationship) adj. particularly private intractable	adj. unmanageable adj. stubborn or obstinate intransigent	adj. uncompromising, obstinate intrepid	adj. bold and adventurous inveterate	adj. ingrained, habitual invulnerable	adj. indestructible, impervious to harm irascible	adj. irritable, testy, touchy irresolute	adj. wishy-washy, hesitant laconic	adj. taciturn, reserved, succinct laudable	adj. praiseworthy loquacious	adj. talkative lucid	adj. clear and coherent luminous	adj. full of light maladroit	adj. clumsy, awkward, inept malign	adj. evil or harmful malleable	adj. pliant or pliable adj. easily influenced mercurial	adj. easily changeable, fickle meticulous	adj. paying close attention to detail modest	adj. not boastful adj. not overly showy mundane	adj. everyday, boring munificent	adj. very generous naïve	adj. inexperienced or gullible nascent	adj. just beginning or in the early stages nonplussed	adj. confused and baffled obdurate	adj. stubborn, obstinate obscure	adj. mysterious or not well-known obsequious	adj. overly fawning and helpful in a way that is disingenuous obstinate	adj. stubborn, uncompromising olfactory	adj. relating to smell or the sense of smell onerous	adj. difficult or burdensome opaque	adj. not see-through; blocking light ostentatious	adj. overly showy in a way that is gaudy or vulgar painstaking	adj. attentive to detail, meticulous partial	adj. incomplete patent	adj. blatant, obvious pedantic	adj. overly concerned with irrelevant detail, fussy pedestrian	adj. boring, monotonous, run-of-the-mill perfunctory	adj. done without much effort, care, or thought peripheral	adj. on the edge or periphery; not centrally important pervasive	adj. found everywhere, widespread; often has a negative connotation phlegmatic	adj. cool and unruffled plastic	adj. easily shaped or molded adj. made of plastic plausible	adj. believable, reasonable polemical	adj. angry, hostile, harshly critical pragmatic	adj. practical precarious	adj. uncertain or unstable preceded	adj. went before precipitate	adj. hastily and not well-considered prescient	adj. knowing things before they happen, prophetic presumptuous	adj. overly familiar; invades social boundaries pristine	adj. untouched, clean, pure prodigious	adj. enormous, immense, gigantic profligate	adj. extravagant and wasteful, esp. in an immoral way prospective	adj. potential or likely adj. applicable to the future quotidian	adj. relating to the everyday or mundane recondite	adj. arcane or obscure relentless	adj. never stopping, constant relevant	adj. relating to the topic or issue at hand reticent	adj. hesitant to speak adj. introverted or silent reverent	adj. solemn and respectful salubrious	adj. health-promoting secular	adj. of or relating to the world or worldly matters (as opposed to religious ones) sedulous	adj. dedicated and careful simultaneous	adj. occurring at the same moment solicitous	adj. considerate, attentive soporific	adj. makes sleepy sparse	adj. scattered or scarce adj. austere and unadorned specious	adj. spurious; appearing true but actually false sporadic	adj. occasional or scattered spurious	adj. fake or false stolid	adj. calm and dependable subjective	adj. open to personal interpretation; not based in objective fact subversive	adj. meant to undercut established institutions or norms sufficient	adj. enough for a given purpose supine	adj. laying back with the face upward (opposite position to prone) tacit	adj. unspoken; implicit taciturn	adj. reticent or reserved; tending towards silence tenuous	adj. weak, flimsy, insubstantial timorous	adj. meek or timid tortuous	adj. winding or twisty adj. complicated tractable	adj. can be easily influenced or managed transient	adj. passes quickly; short-lived ubiquitous	adj. ever-present or universal unadorned	adj. plain; unembellished untenable	adj. weak or unsupportable, esp. with respect to an opinion or situation verbose	adj. long-winded; loquacious volatile	adj. easily changeable or extreme; unstable whimsical	adj. fanciful or capricious

ADVERBS

Word

respectively superbly

Definition

adv. in the sequential order previously given
adv. excellently

NOUNS

Word

Definition

acumen	n. keen judgment and perception advocate	n. one who advocates affectation	n. fake or artificial behavior, often meant to impress or conceal the truth alacrity	n. promptness and eagerness anachronism	n. something old-fashioned n. something appearing in a time period where it does not belong analogous	n. comparable n. appropriate for analogy anomaly	n. an exception or unusual case antipathy	n. strong dislike or hatred apathy	n. state of total disinterest or unenthusiasm astonishment	n. total surprise, shock avarice	n. greed cacophony	n. loud and chaotic noise calumny	n. lie or slander canon	n. accepted rules and tenets of a discipline n. sacred works/scripture; in this sense it is also used to refer to notable literary and artistic works of a culture or discipline capacity	n. the capability to perform a particular action or fulfill a given function n. the total amount a container can hold n. a particular position or role (i.e. "she served in an advisory capacity") catalyst	n. something that speeds up a process or causes action chauvinist	n. someone who believes prejudicially that their own group is the superior one chicanery	n. trickery or deception connoisseur	n. an expert in a particular subject matter area, usually relating to the fine arts or cultural pursuits consumption	n. utilization (esp. of a resource) craft	n. cunning n. skill credence	n. belief or trust decorum	n. appropriate behavior or good manners deference	n. respect or polite submission detachment	n. objectivity or aloofness determinant	n. a strong factor in an outcome diatribe	n. a rant or angry speech denouncing someone or something dilettante	n. someone with an amateur, nonserious interest in something dirge	n. funeral or mourning lament n. any sad, slow song discrepancy	n. inconsistency dissonance	n. a clash between two elements that don't blend well dogma	n. the official beliefs or tenets of particular sect or group efficacy	n. effectiveness elegy	n. sad poem or song, often in remembrance of someone deceased entitlement	n. belief that one deserves things one has not earned n. the rights one is afforded under the law eulogy	n. memorial speech for one who has passed, normally given at a funeral exposition	n. a thorough explanation n. a public show or fair guile	n. craftiness and cunning harangue	n. diatribe or rant hedonism	n. the pursuit of pleasure hyperbole	n. obvious exaggeration for effect iconoclast	n. a person who attacks traditional religious and cultural institutions impediment	n. barrier, hindrance, or obstruction imprudence	n. bad judgment intermediary	n. a go-between litigation	n. legal proceedings magnanimity	n. generosity and nobility of spirit maverick	n. an unorthodox person or rebel mendacity	n. untruthfulness, dishonesty misanthrope	n. person who hates humanity monotony	n. boredom and repetition notoriety	n. fame for doing something negative or criminal nuance	n. subtle shades of difference occult	n. the mystical and supernatural omniscience	n. the quality or state of being all-knowing opportunism	n. the practice of taking advantage of opportunities as they arise without particular concern for morality or ethics opprobrium	n. criticism or condemnation partisan	n. a devoted supporter of a group, cause, or person paucity	n. scarcity, poverty perfidy	n. treachery or deceit perseverance	n. persistence in the face of obstacles phenomena	n. things that happen pith	n. the essential substance of something platitude	n. a trite or cliché statement plethora	n. a surplus or overabundance of something precipitate	n. particulate matter formed within a solution precursor	n. a forerunner probity	n. integrity and honor prodigal	n. a reckless spender propriety	n. appropriateness, manners, decorum qualification	n. credential n. a modifying statement rhetoric	n. the art of effective communication (written or verbal) sanction	n. punishments imposed for breaking a regulation sediment	n. material that settles at the bottom of a body of water sycophant	n. a fawning, insincere admirer temperance	n. moderation and restraint, sometimes used to specifically describe abstinence from alcohol tirade	n. an angry rant torpor	n. tiredness, lethargy venality	n. the state of being capable of being bribed veracity	n. truth and factual accuracy vexation	n. state of being frustrated, irritated, or concerned.

zeal	n. passion or fervor

VERBSWord*Definition

abate	v. to diminish in intensity v. to cause to diminish in intensity abjure	v. to reject or renounce abscond	v. to leave secretly, evading detection abstain	v. to voluntarily refrain from doing something admonish	v. scold or to advise firmly adulterate	v. to contaminate or make impure by introducing inferior elements advocate	v. to recommend, support, or advise aggrandize	v. enlarge or increase, esp. wealth, power, reputation alleviate	v. to relieve a problem or ease a burden amalgamate	v. to combine to or mix together ameliorate	v. to improve or mitigate a situation anoint	v. to choose for a particular office or position v. to use oil on a person in a religious ceremony appease	v. to placate v. to satisfy (an appetite, a need) assuage	v. to provide relief from an unpleasant feeling v. to satisfy a need or appetite aver	v. to assert or allege belie	v. give a false impression (intentional or unintentional) in word, appearance, or deed bolster	v. to shore up or support burgeon	v. flourish, bloom, expand or increase quickly castigate	v. to scold or berate strongly censure	v. to express intense condemnation coalesce	v. to come together, esp. from disparate parts condone	v. to approve or allow confound	v. to confuse or astonish construe	v. to interpret contend	v. assert or claim v. grapple with covet	v. to desire something that does not belong to you deflect	v. divert or cause to ricochet delineate	v. to describe very accurately v. to clearly demarcate a boundary v. to render an outline demur	v. to object or raise concerns denigrate	v. say negative things about, particularly in a defamatory way deride	v. to mock or ridicule desiccate	v. to dry out completely v. to suck out the vitality and passion disabuse	v. to dispel someone's illusions or false impressions about something discern	v. to perceive disparage	v. to belittle disregard	v. to ignore or pay no attention to dissemble	v. to mislead or conceal the truth, esp. with respect to one's motives disseminate	v. to spread widely (esp. information) diverge	v. to split apart, esp. a road or path dupe	v. to deceive or fool elicit	v. to provoke a response emulate	v. to imitate or attempt to equal in accomplishment enervate	v. to exhaust or drain of energy engender	v. to cause or give rise to enhance	v. intensify, increase, augment equivocate	v. to use ambiguous language in order to mislead or deceive eschew	v. avoid or abstain from exacerbate	v. to make worse exculpate	v. to exonerate or vindicate exonerate	v. to clear of charges of wrongdoing expatiate	v. to elaborate on something in great detail explicate	v. to explain in detail extrapolate	v. to estimate or conjecture about the future based on presently available information or facts facilitate	v. to make something easier or simpler fluctuate	v. to shift without apparent pattern foment	v. to foster unrest or discontent forestall	v. to hold off or try to prevent gainsay	v. deny or oppose galvanize	v. to prod someone into action impair	v. to hinder or weaken someone or something infer	v. to conclude from implicit evidence (as opposed to explicit facts) intimate	v. to imply laud	v. to praise malign	v. to speak negatively about someone or something mitigate	v. to improve a painful, unpleasant, or negative situation mollify	v. placate neglect	v. to abandon or leave uncared-for obscure	v. to cover something up or make it more difficult to perceive obviate	v. to forestall the need for something v. to prevent occlude	v. to block or obstruct offset	v. to counterbalance or counteract oscillate	v. to swing back and forth between two points, poles, or positions outstrip	v. to overtake or outrun overshadow	v. to literally cast a shadow over v. to appear more notable than permeate	v. to pervade or penetrate throughout peruse	v. to read something carefully and closely v. to read something informally or quickly (context is critical for this word!) placate	v. to calm, esp. an angry or upset person plummet	v. to fall quickly and far polarize	v. to cause a sharp division between two groups precipitate	v. to cause prevail	v. to succeed, esp. with respect to vanquishing an opponent v. to convince or persuade prevaricate	v. to evade or deceive without outright lying proliferate	v. to multiply and spread rapidly propitiate	v. to obtain special favor from someone, esp. a powerful person or deity, by performing a pleasing action

	v. to appease someone who is angry rationalize	v. to attempt to justify with reasons that are only superficially valid reconcile	v. to bring into harmony v. to repair a relationship refute	v. to rebut or disprove reproach	v. to scold or express criticism repudiate	v. to renounce or disown rescind	v. to take back or retract (an offer or statement) sanction	v. to give official permission v. to impose a penalty for a particular action satiate	v. to completely satisfy (with respect to hunger or appetite) substantiate	v. to corroborate or give evidence of something supplant	v. to overtake or replace synthesize	v. to combine disparate parts into a coherent whole undermine	v. to weaken or compromise underscore	v. to line underneath for emphasis v. to emphasize vacillate	v. to shift between multiple options or opinions venerate	v. to give a high degree of respect; may border on worship